

Advances in Pediatric Emergency Medicine

Friday, October 30, 2009

*Holy Cross Hospital Education Center
1500 Forest Glen Road, Silver Spring, MD 20910*

Course Objectives

This conference provides pediatric emergency medicine providers with updates and current academic trends in topics commonly encountered by healthcare professionals in the care of the acutely ill pediatric patient. A new format is being introduced this year. Didactic lectures will be presented in the morning, and a practical work-shop on selected pediatric procedures will be provided during the afternoon session. Participants will learn the latest advances in the diagnosis, treatment, and clinical skills necessary in pediatric emergency medicine.

- Learn the latest approach in the assessment and treatment of children with urinary tract infections.
- Better understand the fundamental considerations in patient safety in the acute care setting.
- Discuss current approaches to procedural sedation alternatives in the emergency department.
- Discuss the approach and management of selected dangerous poisonings in children.
- Become familiar with rashes and skin marks that are worrisome for child abuse.
- Become familiar with current literature and research in the field of pediatric emergency medicine.
- Better understand methods and techniques of simple laceration repair.
- Learn the management and splinting of selected pediatric fractures.
- Become more familiar with the principles of pediatric airway management.
